Is Europe's ageing nuclear technology a ticking time bomb?

COVER STORY

- 14 | Eye in the sky
Europe's Earth observation programme Copernicus is up and running, delivering a treasure trove of satellite information about the planet and its atmosphere. Good news for grid planners, climate watchers – and the energy transition.

COUNTRY MARKETS

- 28 | News: Denmark slashes support for renewables, revised cost of climate adaption, France to introduce carbon price floor.

BUSINESS

- 29 | News: Nasdaq launches wind energy futures, European PV reaches 100 GW mark, Adwen takeover in the works.
- 30 | BNEF Report
Small solar and wind dominate clean energy investment in a healthy first quarter.

TECHNOLOGIES

- 35 | News: New additive reduces bovine burps, study advocates supergrid between Africa and Europe, new turbine tower design unveiled, breakthrough for lithium-air batteries.

WIND POWER

- 36 | Information is key
Cost pressure and a desire for independence from manufacturers are fuelling a resurgence in wind turbine condition monitoring systems.
- 42 | Giant windmills
The inexorable growth of wind turbine rotors on land and at sea is propelling research into new materials and designs for longer, lighter and smarter blades.
